

Note: Reference is used because the wood thickness is considered $\frac{3}{4}$ ".

The actual dimension needs to be verified.

Only the back piece dimension is impacted and must be adjusted to equal $62"$ plus 2 times the true lumber thickness rather than the $62" + 2 \times \frac{3}{4}" = 63\frac{1}{2}"$.

The actual dimension needs to be verified.

Only the back piece dimension is impacted and must be adjusted to equal 62" plus 2 times the true lumber thickness rather than the $62" + 2 \times 3/4" = 63 \frac{1}{2}"$.

